Carmel Merchants To Open Evenings Three Weekends

"We're trying to meet a need of the entire community in remaining open for the three weekend evenings we have scheduled, following requests from people from all over Northern California.

Kay Scott, executive secretary of the Carmel Business Association, explained the unprecedented action taken by the group at last Tuesday's breakfast meeting.

"We have never before remained open evenings, and our action now is certainly not motivated by a desire on the part of association members to commercialize Christmas," she said.

The members present at the Tuesday meeting were unanimous in their decision to remain open on Friday and Saturday evenings, for three weekends before Christmas, beginning Dec. 6.

Part of the impetus for the new customer service was furnished by a group of artists and craftsmen who are holding an Arts and Crafts Festival at the La Playa Hotel for three days beginning on Dec. 6.

However, due to many inquiries from the San Francisco Bay area and other parts of Northern California asking whether the stores in Carmel would be open evenings during the holiday season, the association membership decided on the three-weekend opening.

"I get all kinds of calls from all over the Peninsula asking about being open," Miss Scott said.

"A lot of people would like to shop in Carmel, but it is just impossible for them to get away during the times the stores are open.

"We're offering this service to fill a need."

Financing Of Sunset's Seats Council Topic

by Gunnar Norberg

Should the City buy new seats for Sunset Auditorium? If so, should they be bought for the downstairs, for the upstairs, or for both? Those were the questions which faced the City Council as it met in adjourned session last night.

However, after hearing City Finance Officer Arthur Plaxton's report regarding the fiscal effect of the new-seat proposal, along with other capital outlay proposals, for Sunset, the question became not whether or not to buy new seating for the entire auditorium, but how to deal with the technical and legal requirements of such a purchase.

Plaxton's report indicated that purchase of all the 714 new seats proposed, at a cost of more than $33,000, was within the City's means over a 12-month period of time starting next month and ending in December of next year, but the city's fiscal year begins in July of one year and ends in June of the next.

Cultural Commissioner Ashton Stanley mentioned, however, that his Cultural Commission sub-committee, was making plans to solicit private financial support not only to help in the seat-purchase matter, but also to make other Sunset Center improvements.

Eventually Councilman Herbert Blanks made a motion to direct the City Attorney and the City Administrator to prepare an appropriate contract to place before the City Council at its December 4th meeting, to accomplish the purchase of the 714 new seats for Sunset Auditorium. Councilman Eben Whittlesey seconded the motion, and then it was passed unanimously.

OPEN OR CLOSE? — Charles McEwen, left, president of the Carmel Business Association, and James Peter Cost, board member, listen to the discussion on opening Carmel stores evenings for the Christmas season.

Individualized High School Based On Learning Sequences, Not Time Spent

A completely individualized program of instruction based on a recent visit to Hughson High School, near Modesto, was described at Wednesday's school board meeting by Arthur Gumbrell, Carmel high school principal.

Much of the instruction is programmed in "Laps", designed at the school. Students may proceed at their own speed or ability and may finish at any time during the year. After completing the required "Laps," they may do extra work under a tutorial program or concentrate in another area.

There are certain rigid requirements of all boys and girls, he said. Every student must take 90 hours of typing, drafting, art, music, and electronics. Girls are required to take home economics.

There are a number of learning laboratories. In the business laboratories, typing, dictating machines and duplicators may all be in use in the same room at the same time. In the home economics laboratory, a variety of activities take place, from design to cooking.

There is an outside horticulture—agriculture laboratory, electronics lab, etc.

The school is open to the community, two evenings a week, staffed by 100 volunteers. A father and son may work in the electronic lab, for example, or mother and daughter in the home-ec lab.

The school was started after a visit to Nova High School in Melbourne, Fla., an internationally known innovative high school. The Simulations and Games invented by Gumbrell are used at Nova, he said. The games are used to involve students in decision-making real life situations.

District Supt. Dr. Harris Taylor described the critical classroom shortage at Middle School and the High School. Even by leaving the 5th grade in the elementary level next year, it would only be "buying time until 1970-71," he said.

For some reason, there is a greater increase in the number of Middle School and high school students than the lower grades, he said. Possibly this is because families are older before they can afford to live in this area.

"We must decide on what kind of a program we want for middle and high school students and then plan the buildings," he said. "If we shift the Middle School from its 40 acre site to the 27 acre high school site, and shift the high school to the larger area site, it will take much planning. We really need the services of an architect," he said.

A movie was shown filled with innovative ideas in education. In these school the quest for learning is based on responsibility, not on the fear of being held back, and a good question is better than an answer.

Talcott Sees Young Nixon Cabinet

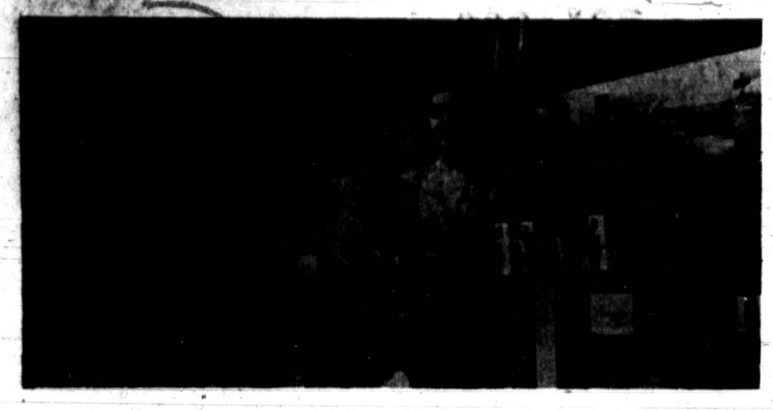
Carmel's Mayor and Rotarian Bernard F. Laiolo introduced local Congressman Burt L. Talcott as the major speaker at the Carmel Rotary Club's regular Wednesday lunch meeting.

Congressman Talcott said that he thought the Presidential election was not close as indicated by the news media but was a stronger mandate of the people than 1960 which will result in considerable support to President-elect Nixon by the Congress and Senate.

He said the election has made people cognizant of election proceedures and political overpromises.

He hopes to see the new administration restore a good creditability image, both foreign and domestic to the presidential office.

Talcott said that Nixon will establish a young and sharp cabinet. He didn't see much relief in sight on military spending and pointed to the fact that at the time of the Pueblo incident we only had four aircraft in South Korea, three with nuclear arms and the fourth broken down.



SILVER ANSIVERSARY—Nicole Altair begins her 25th year of serving Carmel with scents, soaps, gifts and laces.

Altair Marks 25th Year

by Charles Strosnider

Nicole Altair celebrates her Silver Anniversary this year—her twenty-fifth year of furnishing essences more precious, by weight, than silver—fragrances that may have had more impact on the decisions of destinies than gross coin.

The aura of mystique—the vision heightened or clouded—the will softened and molded—the subtlety of woman empowered by the artistry of ages.

The power of fragrance—the frame on a painting — the chord to the melody — the bewitchment of the final touch of perfection.

The female, emboldened in spirit by luxuriating in a scented bath, powdered and scented discretely, is a juggernaut of power — a force against which the mere male dissolves.

This Silver Anniversary year of Nicole Altair opens with her essences and attars—her Belgian laces and French Limoges—her gift boutique—in a new location Perfume Lane, just behind Mary May's Boutique, 6th Ave., off Dolores, a lane of feminine enchantment.

Garden Club

Mrs. Clare Appleby will give a talk and demonstration on "Legends of Christmas" using the plants and flowers in Flower Arrangements at the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club, Thursday, Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. at the Community Recreation Center, Junipero and 14th in Pacific Grove.

Reports From RLS

by Barry Nathan

Parent's Day Another Success

This year's Parents Day at R.L.S. was one of the busiest and most successful in the history of the school. The parents of almost all the students attended the conferences with their son's teachers.

Along with these conferences were numerous sports activities which all resulted with victories for the R.L.S. teams.

Spotlighting the occasion was one of the largest and finest Art Exhibits of the school's history.

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Pearsall, the school's Artist-in-Residence and well known artists, the Art Show had on display some of the finest art available in the San Francisco and Monterey areas.

Also on sale were some of Mr. Pearsall's portfolios which contained four paintings of the campus. Many of the paintings and portfolios were sold while the conferences were held.

Saturday night, the Drama Club presented two plays, a drama and a comedy. Under the direction of Mrs. Rosemary Garrison, the two plays, "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich" and the "Marriage Proposal" were very successfully presented to an overcapacity crowd. The cast of "Ivan Denisovich" included Mark Farber, John Sharon, Bruce Burrel, Tom Gardner, Gary Novack, Brion Ford, Rick Johnson, Pete Kessler, Jim Hebenstreit, Myron Melon, and John Wilson. Taji Bugbee, Don Hart, and Barbara Derikson composed the cast in the "Marriage Proposal."

Part of the success of the weekend should be given to the Gnomes (a ski and service club). Without the help the Gnomes gave to the organization of the week-end, the success would not have been nearly so great.

Of all the individuals who would be credited with a major portion in the success of the week-end, Peter Meckel would probably receive some recognition. Not only did he work all day Friday trying to get the art show ready, but also helped do numerous odd jobs that needed doing to help make that weekend one major success.

Padre Trails Meeting

The Padre Trails Camera Club will meet in Brey Hall, Carmel High School, on Thursday, Nov. 21, at 8 o'clock.

There will be no slide contest, for the program will show slides from many countries made by members of the Photographic Society of America.

It is titled, "Around the World with PSA."

Following the program refreshments will be served.

The six winning slides in the PSA pictorial contest on Nov. 7 were made by George Culp, Art Thorsen, Fred Capen (2), and Leonard Williams (2).

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

Four interesting and diversified programs are scheduled at Sunset Cultural Center, 8th and San Carlos, Carmel, that should be marked down on your calendar.

"First Lady"

"First Lady" will have its final performances this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. This delightful and timely comedy of political high-jinks in Washington is one of the funniest things to hit Carmel in a long time.

Ruth McElroy, Ginny Frank, Betty Fowlston and Bob Heater head up a large cast of local players in this hilarious comedy. Be sure to see it.

Tickets are available at the Central Box Office, Mission & 6th (May Court), 624-6739; Abinante Music Store, Monterey, 372-5893; and at the Sunset Center Box Office before each performance.

"Curlew River"

The Carmel Music Society will present "Curlew River" by Benjamin Britten on Nov. 22 at 8:30 p.m. This contemporary opera will play only one night in Carmel, so be sure to get your tickets early if you expect a decent seat.

"Curlew River" was first performed in June 1964 in a 14th Century Norman church in Aldeburgh, England, as part of the Adelburgh Music Festival, which Mr. Britten founded in 1948.

The story of how "Curlew River" came to be written is rather interesting. In 1956 Mr. Britten visited Japan where he was introduced to the No drama. He became fascinated by the use of drums, flutes and Oriental style and the story of Sumida-Gawa.

He decided that he would like to bring East and West together using the device of a parable patterned after a Medieval mystery play. The result is that "Curlew River" has strong overtones of the No drama and echoes of the Sumida-Gawa. The dramatic styling is somewhat austere and is highlighted by the incantatory music.

A prolific writer, Mr. Britten has composed "Peter Grimes," "The Rape of Lucretia", "Turn of the Screw", and numerous choral and orchestral works. "Curlew River" has been called the most beautiful of the contemporary English operas.

Mr. Britten won the Aspen Award in Aspen, Colorado in 1964, the same year he was awarded the Gold Medal of the Royal Philharmonic Society of London. In 1965 he won the Sibelius Prize.

He has lectured at the Universities of Belfast, Oxford, Cambridge and London. He is a member of the Academy of Rome, The Academy of Music in London, The American Academy of Arts and Letters, and the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

Tickets are available at the Friar Tuck Bookstore, Mission near 6th, Carmel.

Photography Exhibit

There is only one week left to see the current exhibit of Polaoid prints at the Friends of Photography studio at the Center. The color prints by Marie Cosindas are well worth a visit.

The Studio is open daily from 1 to 4 p.m. except Monday. Admission is free.

Explorerama Carmel

Austria in Four Seasons, by Willis Butler, will be the feature of Explorerama Carmel on Saturday, Nov. 23 at 8:15 p.m. This is a very comprehensive film of Austria in all its charm and beauty.

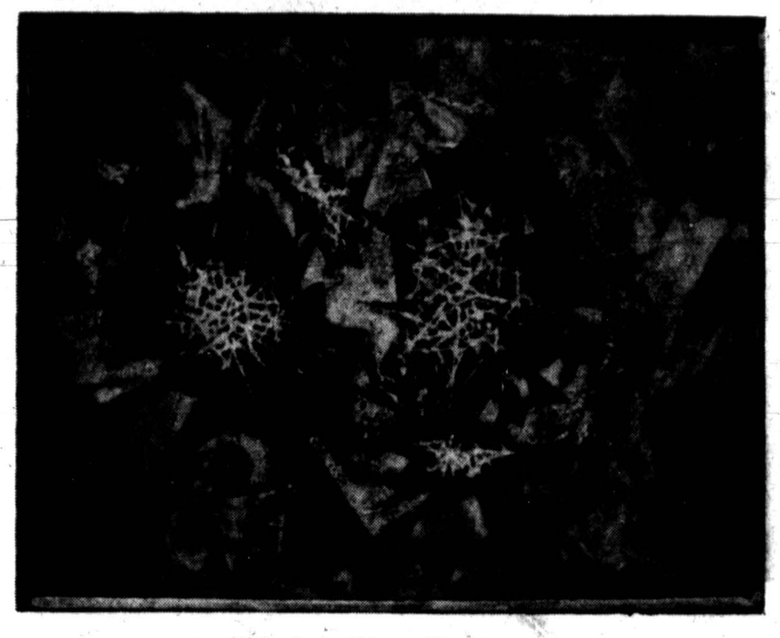
Boyer and Garcia Exhibit—



"Shadow Stars Undersea"
Painting by Louise Cardeiro Boyer

"Oppossum"—sculpture by Beth Garcia

Carmel Art Association November Show

By Louise Cook

There is much to excite and interest one at the Carmel Art Association this month.

In the Beardsley Room the one-man show of recent works by Louise Cardeiro Boyer is truly exceptional.

Highly imaginative impressions express Mrs. Boyer's interpretations of the rocks, flowers, plants and tide pool life at Baja, California.

While partly abstract, you can see her ideas are based on reality. Subtle colors, slightly blurred, give an underwater feeling.

In some of the paintings she incorporates sand, shells, pebbles and seaweed in an unobtrusive way.

A hot sun burns in one painting.

In others you feel the movement of the tide in the graceful design of muted colors harmoniously combined.

"Dwelling Place" is a poetic arrangement of pinks and mauves that is stimulating to the eye. "Shadow Stars Underseas" combines "sea-urchin purple" with bold impact.

Mrs. Boyer has made the utmost use of color, texture and design in this impressive showing.

The Main Gallery has its drawing power too in a handsome show of great variety.

There is a delightfully cool arrangement of shaggy daisies by Mary Agnes Lansdowne and a warm stylized grouping of flowers by Barbara West. Bonnie Robinson's boats seem to be suspended on a glassy bay.

Among the many talented members of the Carmel Art Association shines a true artist craftsman.

Beth Garcia is dedicated to perfection in her sculptured pieces. There are small animals done in minute detail in silver, gold and ivory, an otter with her pup, a polar bear with her cubs, and an opposum with her young.

Mrs. Garcia makes lavish use of precious metals and stones and each of her creations is a real treasure.

Sculpture by Beth Garcia is also shown in the Perry House Gallery and the James Peter Cost Seascape Gallery.

There is still time to buy a chance on a $500 painting before the drawing on November 16. You could be the owner of a painting to treasure and your contribution goes toward an art scholarship to a worthy student. Tickets are $1.00.

Jazz Concert At MPC On Nov. 22

Three Monterey Peninsula College jazz groups—the 20-piece MPC Jazz Ensemble, the 22-member MPC Jazz Rehearsal Band, and a jazz vocal quartet called "The Interludes" — will stage a concert Friday, Nov. 22, at 8:30 p.m. in the college music hall.

Tickets will be sold at the door or may be purchased from members of the ensemble or band.

The Jazz Ensemble, conducted by Dan Haerle of the college music faculty, will play a variety of music from both the jazz and rock idioms. "The rock element," Haerle points out, "is playing an important part in the jazz music of today. When it is well done, it can be an exciting type of jazz. The unfortunate part is that bad rock music is often misconstrued as being good jazz."

"The Interludes" will sing and accompany themselves on two selections, and the ensemble will accompany them on "Dynaflow," a classic from the Stan Kenton library.

The rehearsal band, conducted by Haerle as an evening division class, is composed of experienced professional musicians from the Monterey Peninsula area.

Featured on its portion of the Nov. 22 concert will be several Stan Kenton arrangements and as a finale, the band will play "Malaguena," the famed tour-de-force from the Kenton library.

Jacobs Painting Is In DeYoung Show

Ralph Jacobs, nationally known Carmel artist, is currently exhibiting his work for the sixth year at the M. H. DeYoung Museum in San Francisco.

His large oil in the juried show, "At Home With Jessie," is of his aunt, Mrs. Berge Keikorian in her Carmel home.

"The most amazing feature of Jacobs' art," says Harry W. Fletcher," is his inborn talent and love of painting since the age of two. He reveals the inner fire of his Armenian background."

Says Duke Scott: "Jacobs' palette has an extraordinary technique, filled with sunshine. Dark cloistered halls and textural skin tones reflect his mastery of color control."

Mrs. Charles Fox puts last-minute touches on a housecoat which she made for the All Saints' Christmas Bazaar, while Mrs. Arthur Cunningham serves as an obliging, attractive model. As he watches the procedure, her husband, The Rev. Arthur Cunningham gets a terrific idea for a Christmas gift.

Something for Everybody In Christmas Bazaar

The Churchwomen of All Saints' Episcopal Church are putting much time and effort into making ready their annual Christmas Bazaar, which they will hold in the All Saints' Parish Hall, Lincoln and 9th, Carmel, on Nov. 21, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Christmas shoppers will be able to take advantage of an opportunity to get hand-sewn and hand-knit articles that they could find only in specialty shops. In addition, there will be a booth that gitters wih jewlery, and one that sells picture frames that have been processed with an antique finish.

Then, there will be booths for the food-minded (and who isn't?) One will be a Pantry Shelf, full of enticing baked goods and jellies and jams. Another will be a Vegetable Booth that features excellent buys on fresh vegetables from the Salinas Valley. And, for those who want to eat right then and there, luncheon will be served between 11:30 and 1:30.

'Christmas Collage' Plans Made

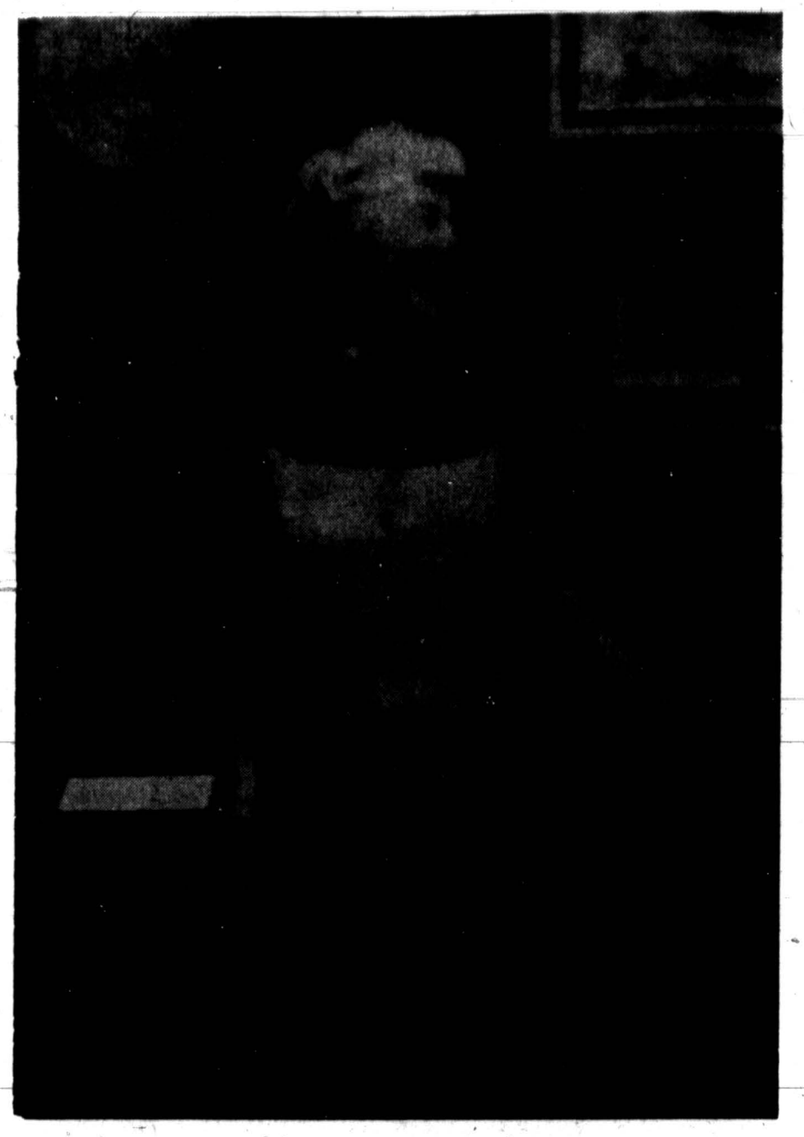
The Filia Circle of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula will meet on Tuesday, November 19th at the home of Mrs. Charles Pearson for another in the series on "The Houses of Worship". This meeting will feature a trip via color slides to the Church of the Holy Sepulchure in Jerusalem, to be presented by Mr. & Mrs. Leonard Fletcher.

Plans will be made for the circle's annual "Christmas Collage," to be held at the church on Friday, December 6 and Saturday, December 7.

Republican Women Meet Tuesday

Earl Hofeldt, Political Editor of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, will be guest speaker Tuesday, November 19, at the Highlands Inn Hotel for the Annual Luncheon meeting of the Carmel Republican Women's Club, new officers will be elected.

A social hour at 11:30 a.m. will precede the luncheon at 12:30 p.m. For reservations call Mrs. C. W. Fischer, 624-6625 or 624-7409 or Mrs. Douglas Brown, 624-2677 by Monday, November 18th. The public is cordially invited.



Louise Cardeiro Boyer greets guests at Carmel Art Association as she stands before her painting of a red orange moon in a dark violet sky which she did in Mexico last summer. Her dress is of red violet felt and orange wool embroidered in Equador.

Enthusiastic Reception At Carmel Art Association

The reception at the Carmel Art Association for the one-man show by Louise Cardeiro Boyer had a special quality of appreciation, affection and enthusiasm Saturday evening.

The many friends of the popular Boyers were there to see her latest work inspired by the earthy colors and subtle forms found at the Mexican seaside at La Mision, Baja where they spent the summer months.

Louise herself wore a dress made of orange wool embroidered in shocking pink, shades of green, aquamarine and blue violet sequins combined with a red violet felt.

The embroidered material she brought back from Cuenca, Equador in the Andes where she and Gilbert served in the Peace Corps a few years ago.

She recently had it made into a dress by a couple of design majors from Stanford University who run a shop called "Doc's Drygoodies" on Cannery Row.

Her good friend Mary Louise Schneeberger called it "equidorable" and everyone agreed.

Sophie Harpe was in charge of the refreshments which included warm spiced punch and which surrounded a centerpiece of tiny shells which Louise made last summer.

Sultry In Angkor Wat

Mrs. Wallace (Claudine) Foster writes from Angkor Wat where she and her daughter, Patricia Edgemore, have been visiting the ruins, that planes run when they feel like it.

The weather, she said, was sultry and sticky, in contrast to the weather in Japan, which was rainy and cool.

They are headed for Cambodia on their round-the-world trip.

Deanna Johnson Marries Bart Smith

The wedding of Deanna Louise Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August H. Johnson of Carmel to William Bart Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Smith of Pacific Grove, took place on Saturday, November 2.

They were married at St. Timothy Lutheran Church, Monterey where Deanna teaches Sunday School. The Rev. James R. Spaid, Jr., performed the one o'clock ceremony. The church was decorated with white gladiola and chrysanthemum poms. Mrs. Robert Goepfert, a family friend, was soloist and organist was Fred Lewis, organ teacher of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, Deanna wore a peau de soie gown with peau d'ange lace, Victorian neckline and empire waist, long sleeves and chapel train.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white Japhet orchids. An old lace handkerchief was provided by a close family friend, Mrs. Milton Vatveit. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a peau de soie petals headpiece.

Miss Charlene Sonia, of Davis, California, college roommate of Deanna, served as her maid of honor. Her other attendants were Miss Dona Logeman, San Benancio Canyon, Mrs. Polly Farokhnia, Monterey and Miss Pat Holland of Pacific Grove. Lori Mafort of San Jose was her junior bridesmaid and Wendy Mafort her flower girl. (The mother of Lori and Wendy was flower girl in Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's wedding, as Deanne was junior bridesmaid in hers.)

They were dressed in floor length scarlet velvet dresses styled with empire waist trimmed with white lace. Their flat bow headpieces were of the same material and they carried crescent bouquets of carnations in red and white candy stripe.

Best man was John Reither of Pacific Grove at whose wedding, Bart was best man. Ushers were Richard J. Johnson of Carmel, the bride's brother, Ron Moore and Reggie Sugano. Michael Farokhnia was ring bearer.

Assisting at the guest book were the Misses Cheryl Giedt, Barbara Jo Green, and at the gift table, Leslie Kay Ratliff and Pat York. Gilbert Maxey was acolyte. All the above were students in Deanna's Sunday School class.

Following the reception at the Elk's Club in Monterey, there was a buffet supper for out-of-town guests and family at the Johnson home. Great-aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Swanson of Clearlake Highlands, were toasted on their 43rd wedding anniversary.

After graduating from Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College, Deanna attended San Francisco State College and Kramer's School for Secretaries in Carmel. She is employed locally as a secretary.

Bart, a sales coordinator for L.T.I. Corporation of Monterey, attended Peninsula schools, San Francisco State and San Jose State College. He was a member and officer of the local chapter of DeMolay.

The couple will live in the Olympia West Apartments, Pacific Grove.

For his best man, Jan chose his brother, Joel, and ushers included Roger Hodnick, Fred Frost, Scott Campbell and Charles Chempton.

The reception was held at the "La Novia" room at the Naval Postgraduate School.

Sandra is the daughter of Mrs. Dora L. Rees of Carml. A graduate of San Diego State College, she teaches high school in Hollister. She has two brothers, Bruce and Bill, who attends Carmel High School.

'First Lady' Is High Comedy In The Kaufman Tradition

"First Lady" opened at the Sunset Auditorium last Friday for the first of six performances, two of which remain — Friday and Saturday, Nov. 15 and 16.

Once again, the old complaint about the Sunset Auditorium being something less than perfect for a dramatic production was borne out, despite the efforts of a great cast.

When the audience must strain to catch every word, and still finds some of the lines coming off garbled, it is not only frustrating, but exhausting.

Other than that, "First Lady" was an outstanding production, with beautifully mounted costumes and settings.

Sid Frohman produced and directed the George S. Kaufman-Katherine Dayton political satire for the benefit of the National Council on Alcoholism, Monterey Peninsula Area, and did an excellent job, despite the somewhat dated vehicle.

Betty Fowlston turned in a sure, precise and completely believable performance as the wife of the secretary of state, as did Ginny Frank, her rival, as both women promoted their husbands for president.

The costuming by Doris Cameron was beyond a doubt the best seen in the local theaters in years, particularly for Miss Fowlston and Miss Frank.

Altogether an excellent production, competently put together and expertly acted.

Movie Review

The Private Navy of Sergeant O'Farrell — Bob Hope and Phyllis Diller bring comedy talents to help the Army and Navy get beer and girls during WWII.

Rosemary's Baby — Mia Farrow, Ruth Gordon star in a horror-fantasy of a young girl trying to save her unborn baby from impending deviltry.

Villa Rides—Yul Brynner and Robert Mitchum went to Spain to film this picture of the great Mexican revolutionary. Some violence, but essentially a good picture.

I'll Never Forget What's 'Is Name — Frank English drama about a TV director who is disenchanted with his superficial wife and yearns to return to youthful idealism.

The Game is Over—Jane Fonda in a film adapted from Emile Zola's "La Curee." Jane Fonda plays Renee, a girl who marries for convenience, disastrously.

Gone With the Wind — Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklas — Why is it Peter Sellers just can't turn in a bad performance? This adult comedy pokes fun at Hippiedom and the Establishment without favoring either.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

The Touchables — Judy Huxtable and David Anthony star in a frolicking free-for-all with the Love Generation.

Theatre Guide

The Two of Us—Michel Simon as a man who hates . . . and hates . . . and hates. Everything and everybody. A moving and tender story of transition.

Star Spangled Girl—Neil Simon's show is refreshing and will cause you to laugh, smile and reminisce.

First Lady — Slick Kaufman comedy about two Washington wives promoting their husbands for the presidency. Exceptionally well done. Tomorrow and Saturday only.

Heart Is a Lonely Hunter —Alan Arkin's silent eloquence as a deaf mute establishes him as one of the screen's top performers. Sandra Lock is great as a girl who loves him.

New Officers

Ten Durein of Carmel has been chosen the new president of the Monterey History and Art Association following two terms by A. Boyd Mewborn.

Fourteen Million Trees

An all time tree-planting record was set in California's National Forests last year when more than 14,000,000 trees were planted during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1968. This number of trees represents a 30 percent increase over the previous year. More than 35,000 acres of timber-producing lands were planted with Jeffrey pine, sugar pine and Douglas-fir.

'Lion In Winter' Cast Is Tops

"The Lion In Winter," James Goldman's bristling comedy-drama about Henry II, one of England's most robust and controversial rulers, will open at the Circle Theater, Carmel, on Friday, Nov. 15, under the direction of Michael Keller.

The production is being sponsored by the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula.

This is the third play about King Henry II of England to catch the interest of American theatergoers in the second third of this century, and this triple recurrence on the modern stage 800 years after the king's reign is testimony to the surging drama of the man and his time.

The first two plays, T. S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral" in 1936 and Jean Anouilh's "Becket" in 1960, were concerned with the king's turbulent relationship with Thomas a'Becket, his friend and appointee to be Archbishop of Canterbury.

In "The Lion In Winter," we have an imaginative chronicle, condensed into a Christmastide 24 hours in 1183, of a royal family's history-making disputes that actually occurred over the course of several years.

To portray these colorful historical characters, the director has carefully selected a skillful cast of players.

Gertrude Chapell, perhaps one of the best known actresses in the area, plays Henry II's wife, the remarkable Queen Eleanor of Aquitaine. She has acted here since 1954, and with her portrayal as Eleanor, Mrs. Chapell marks her 31st play at the Circle Theater.

Roy Baxter, who holds a B.A. degree in theater arts, gives life to the role of the shrewd Plantagenet King, Henry II of England. Roy is an associate director with the Community Theater, and recently completed directing the first play of the season, "Ready When You Are, C.B.!"

The three sons of Eleanor and Henry, who plot and scheme for succession to the throne, were worthy offsprings of such a mother and father. Richard, the eldest son, known as the Lion Heart, is played by Paul Elliott. The next older son, Geoffrey, is portrayed by Nicholas Gerogiannis. The laste son in this greedy trinity is teen-aged John, a role assigned to James Bennett.

Also present at the gathering in the castle at Chinon is Henry's mistress, a French princess named Alais, played by Susan Leslie.

Alais' brother, young King Philip of France, portrayed by James Sweeney, is also in attendance at the Christmas court to demand fulfillment of the treaty between France and England.

Amid an atmosphere filled with threats of daggers, swords and torture dungeons, these seven talented actors will play games of conspiracies and plots and subplots with unusually witty and eloquent dialogue.

After its opening on Friday, "The Lion In Winter" will play through Dec. 21 on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30, and with a special early performance time on Sundays only at 7:30.

Due to the mature content of this play, the Community Theater would like to point out to parents that it is not recommended for children under 15.

Reservations and group discount bookings may be made by calling the theater box office at 624-2669.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Vienna Versatilities"

Although the next Explorerama at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 23 at 8:15 p.m., encompasses the "Four Seasons in Austria," we'll concentrate on what Vienna has to offer for after-theater supping.

As it takes expertise to arrange and enjoy a meal in the leisurely manner the Viennese prefer, we suggest a buffet to be served after the cinema showing instead of before.

This allows for preparation in advance so that last minute reheating is all that's necessary. Especially on a Saturday night, this form of entertaining is unhurried and unharried.

City of Vineyards

Let's have a hot mulled wine, so warming to the soul and reminiscent of the brave-hearted people who have survived war occupation and had their "wein" too.

Vienna is the only capital with large vineyards within its city limits. Wine has always been an important industry what with over fifteen hundred acres of vines inside the city. No wonder there are so many "Heuriger" cafes where the new wines are tested and tasted.

Hot Mulled Wine

Two jiggers Angostura bitters; 1 fifth, each, claret and sherry; 1 pint brandy; 1½ cups sugar; ½ lb. each, seedless raisins and sweet blanched almonds. Makes 16 mugs.

Into flameproof casserole pour bitters, wine, brandy and sugar. Put over fire until piping hot. In mugs, place several raisins and almonds and pour hot mixture over these. Stir with cinnamon stick muddler.

Fondue-Dipped Vienna Sausages

One small Edam cheese; ½ cup dry white wine; 1 T. hot mustard; ½ t. Worcestershire sauce; 3 cans Vienna sausages. Serves 16.

In double boiler, melt cheese which has been scooped out of red shell; blend in wine and seasonings. Spear halved sausages with picks.

At serving heat fondue dip in a chafing dish or heatproof pottery casserole over candle warmer. Surround with bowls of speared sausages for guests to dip into hot cheese. Serve with pumpernickel rounds or triangles, lightly buttered. A bowl of radish roses, cucumber wedges and pickles are also on hand.

Miniature New Potatoes with Zip-Dip

Two large cans marble-size new potatoes, drained; salt to taste; 8 slices bacon, fried crisp and crumbled; 2 cups dairy sour cream; sugar, chopped dill weed, Tabasco, paprika, ground black pepper and lemon juice to taste. Serves 16.

Pat potatoes with paper towel until dry. Blend together rest of ingredients and heap into bowl. Serve potatoes, kept hot, from chafing dish. Pass toothpicks for spearing before dipping into sour cream mixture.

Hot Mushrooms with Smoked Oysters

Two lbs. large-sized fresh mushrooms; 2 cans smoked oysters, chopped; 4 T. butter, melted; ½ cup sweet pickled onions, chopped; 4 T. chopped fresh parsley. Serves 16.

Wash and scrub mushrooms without peeling them. Cut off stems and chop fine. Mix these with chopped oysters, half of melted butter, onions and parsley. Spoon mixture into mushrooms caps, placed side by side in shallow buttered baking dish. Drizzle remaining butter over them.

Just before serving bake at 375 F. until sizzling hot. Serve on toasted bread or melba toast rounds with small lemon wedges.

This piece de resistance appeared in Party Plans on Sept. 15, 1966 and is the specialty of Vienna-born Mrs. Rudolp Alt of Carmel Valley. It is a much loved casserole which keeps easily after being prepared and refrigerated the day before.

Schinkenfleckerl
Ham and Noodles

One large pkg. Golden Egg Twisties Noodles; 1 stick softened butter; 1 egg; 1 lb. lean cooked ham, cubed; 1 cup sour cream; grated nutmeg and paprika, salt and white pepper to taste. Serves 8.

Boil noodles in salted water until just done; drain. While still hot, add softened butter with the beaten egg. To this add tehe ham, first sauteed in butter; then stir in the sour cream and seasonings to taste. Mix and put into buttered casserole. Bake in 350 F. oven 30 min.

With the above have

Grune Bohnen
(Green Beans)

Two pkgs. frozen green beans (not frenched); ½ cup strong chicken broth; ground nutmeg; 2 T. butter; 1 T. cornstarch and just enough water to cover beans; 2 T. white vinegar; ½ t. summer savory; 1 t. chopped parsley; 1 t. sugar and 1 t. salt. Serves 8.

Cook beans according to directions; add chicken broth, nutmeg, butter. Blend cornstarch with vinegar and add this mixture to beans along with savory, parsley, sugar and salt.

Cook until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Remove from heat. When ready to serve reheat gently in chafing dish, stirring so as not to become lumpy.

If too thick, dilute with chicken broth to right consistency.

Desserts are the delight of the Viennese, yet they have such svelte figures and are so chic!

How they remain that way, and still indulge in rich chocolate and whipped cream concoctions, not only at meals but at tea-time also, is incredible to Americans.

Here is a dessert that is the least caloric we could find:

Viennese Strawberry Icebox Torte

One and a half qts. small strawberries; 3 pkgs. lady fingers; 1 lb. sweet butter; 1 cup granulated sugar; 4 egg yolks; ½ cup heavy cream; 1 t. vanilla extract. Serves 8.

Hull, rinse and drain strawberries, and set aside 1 cup. Split ladyfingers, and with some of them, round side out, line bottom and sides of 9-inch springform pan.

Cream butter with sugar and egg yolks. Beat until fluffy and lemon colored.

With rubber spatula, spread some of mixture over ladyfingers on bottom of pan. Cover with layer of berries, then layer of ladyfingers and again spread with butter mixture. Continue alternating layers until all is used up. Chill.

Remove sides of springform and place cake on serving platter. Whip heavy cream with vanilla extract; spread over top of cake and garnish with remaining strawberries.

You might have just plain strawberries and lemon wafers for those less fortunate of us who shun whipped cream and other such sinfully fattening fare.

Unicef Greeting Cards Now On Sale

UNICEF Greeting Cards and Calendars went on sale here on Nov. 1 under the auspices of Monterey Peninsula Committee for UNICEF.

UNICEF cards, which are sold for the benefit of the Nobel Peace Prize-winning United Nations Children's Fund, help provide milk, medicine and equipment for sick and hungry children all over the world.

In announcing the sale, Mrs. Tom O. Morris, who heads up the local UNICEF Card sale indicated that Unicef cards help provide needy children with the chance for a better and longer life.

The proceeds from one box of cards priced at $1.50 will protect 50 children against tuberculosis.

"These cards sold mostly by volunteers, can spell the difference between life and death for countless boys and girls in Latin America, Asia, Africa, and the Middle East," Mrs. Morris said.

Proceeds from the world sale laset year netted UNICEF more than $3,000,000, nearly 10% of its total income.

The cards come ten to a box priced at $1.50. They have the "Season's Greetings" message in the five official languages of the United Nations. There are also UNICEF Birthday cards and Note cards at the same price, and a beautiful Engagement Calendar which sells for $2.50. The public is invited to visit a display of the 1968 UNICEF cards which can be seen daily at the Thunderbird Shops in C. V. and Pebble Beach and at Chez Melange (314 Forest Ave.), P. G.

Dance and Films For CHS Parents

A dessert-dance for parents of Carmel High School students will be given in the Donald M. Craig Gymnasium at the high school on Friday, Nov. 15, from 8:30 to midnight. Dance music in the tradition of the big name band era will be provided by band leader Henry Avila and his fifteen "Virtuoso Syncopators."

The dance is co-sponsored by the Boosters Club and the Carmel High School Music Department, of which Avila is head.

Film Series

On the same evening, open to all in the community, "Wuthering Heights," the first in the Parents Club Film Series, will be shown at Brey Hal at 7 p.m. The movie lasts two hours.

U.N. Contest

High school students are being urged to compete for the Dag Hammarskjold Award in the National High School United Nations Contest next March.

First prize is an $800 award for college scholarship or for travel abroad.

School administrators who wish their students to be eligible for competition must write to the Education Department of UNA of U.S.A., 833 United Nations Plaza, New York, in order to receive the rules and text for the examination to be held March 4.

The U.N. chapter of Monterey County is planning a seminar-workshop in January on the work of the United Nations so that students can gain further factual information.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments. Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy law is my delight."

These words from Psalm 119 are part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Mortals and Immortals" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Related passages from the denominational textbook will include the following: "In Science, man's immortality depends upon that of God, good, and follows as a necessary consequence of the immortality of good." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

The second part of a two-part program is to be broadcast Sunday morning over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. It is titled "Why Prayer Heals" and is part of the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." This program will expain that prayer goes beyond blind faith by accepting more of the law of God, and will include an account of the results of just such a deep and active prayer.

HARVEST

Ebb tide;—
And along the shining sand-flats
Of the bay, eager diggers
Watch with glee
As the fertile fields of ocean
Blossom with the air-bubbles
Of bi-valves seeking sustenance;
Or blowing spent effluvia from their holes.
A thrust of spade and the prize is won;
As into a sacking pouch is dumped
A none-too-happy clam.

Grace R. Ballard

A WORLD?

In a madness of ironic life,
In a world of worthless breath
I seek to rise beyond this earth,
And my body sink to death.

In a world that is as real,
As my mind might make it seem . . .
For a handful of beautiful memories
And a life full of shattered dreams.

In a world of many men,
To be as one alone . . .
So many minds that think as one,
As the sand which makes the stone.

To exist in timeless nothingness
To find eternal peace
I seek this land of emptiness,
Where man-made hells might cease.

Go jump in the lake.

Or fish in it.
Or water-ski on it.
Or camp beside it.

Our lakes provide the water power to make electricity for you.

But if a by-product of our facilities can supply you with some enjoyment, we're happy to have you use it, too. Like Lake Spaulding (below), near Donner Summit.

All of our 145 PG&E-made lakes are open to everyone whenever operations permit. And we've built nearly 600 sites for picnicking, campirg or just plain resting.

They're all for your enjoyment. It gives us a good feeling to know that when you aren't enjoying our power while away on vacation, you may be enjoying one of its sources.

Letter From Switzerland

(John and Nancy Livingstone are living in Switzerland for at least the next two years, and have written a series of chatty, delightful letters on living conditions in the Alps. This is the first. Others will run at weekly intervals).

Villars-sur-Ollon Vaud,
Switzerland

We have settled here for the next two years while two of younger daughters, Dale and Terry attend College Alpin Beau-Soliel.

Villars is a mountain resort town about 5000 feet up in the Alps with dramatic panoramic views of Les Diablerets Glacier and green valleys.

We arrived at the end of the summer tourist season, and until the snow falls in November, it's going to be a quiet, peaceful place.

On the slopes overlooking Villars there are many new one- and two-family chalets and several four-story apartment houses, all preserving the traditional Alpine chalet architecture, and offering the utmost in modern comforts and conveniences, including underground utilities.

A two-bedroom apartment, completely furnished, with a breath-taking view of the mountains and the villages below rents for 1200 Swiss francs (about $280) per month during the busy summer and winter tourist season, but are available from September through November for about $190 a month.

The apartments are well furnished in contemporary modern Danish styled furniture and tastefully decorated with oil paintings, etchings and vases of artificial flowers.

Our apartment has a large sunny terrace off the living room, tile floors throughout, a stone fireplace, two carpeted bedrooms, an up-to-the-minute stainless steel and tile kitchen and separate toilet and bathroom.

There is no telephone or TV but so far we have found no need for these gadgets.

One thing has been hard for us to become accustomed to: all night long big, brown Swiss cattle graze on the nearby mountain meadows, creating an interminable din with their oversized bells. The sounds are strangely akin to those of the percussion section of the Balinese orchestra and there seems to be a definite Calypso rhythm which never seems to change. Apart from these sounds, there is almost a total absence of any mechanical noise; no sirens, no trucks, no aircraft, only an occasional automobile winding its way up the road from Villars.

We bought a used car last September, and found that it isn't as simple a procedure as in California. More about that next week.

Maritime Academy Appointments Open

State Senator Donald L. Grunsky announced he will accept applications for appointment to the state-operated California Maritime Academy in Vallejo.

Applications for the three-year training for officers of the American Merchant Marine must reach the Senator's office, 211 Letunich Bldg., Watsonville, by Jan. 1, 1969. Telephone is 722-3511.

The candidate standing highest in the entrance competition will be the appointee from th 17th senatorial district, Grunsky said. Additional appointments may be made depending on candidates' qualifications and existing vacancies.

An Academy graduate receives his federal license, a state-approved bachelor of science degree in nautical science or marine engineering, and if qualified, a commission as ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

An applicant for the Academy must be a single male citizen, age 17 to 22, a high school graduate, and meet prescribed mental and physical requirements. Prospective candidates must take college entrance examination board tests not later than March 1969.

Scandinavian Study Program Offered

Scandinavian Seminar is accepting applications for its study program in Denmark, Finland, Norway or Sweden for the acedemic year 1969.

The program emphasizes the student's and adult's opportunity to become part of a different culture while acquiring a second language, with a family stay early in the seminar and the major part of the year in a native residential school.

Carmel students or residents who are interested may secure further information by writing Scandinavian Seminar, 140 West 57th St., New York, N. Y. 10019.

Carmel Travelers

Urbino, Italy
Nov. 1, 1968

In this most ancient and beautiful part of Italy (Umbria) I am about to conclude a two-month buying trip with my partner Luciano Tempo.

This exciting trip has included England, Portugal, Spain, Italy and Holland with a side trip into Scotland. In every country we have found many treasures of the past.

Five extensive shipments dating from the 14th Century to the 18th Century should be arriving in Carmel shortly after the first of the new year.

These shipments will be displayed at both shops: Luciano Kitchen Traditions in the Del Monte Center, Monterey and at the new location for Luciano Antiques at San Carlos near Fifth.

Formerly the original location of the Laky Galleries, this new shop will open to the public in early December or late November, with a grand opening celebration planned after the first of the new year when the new shipments from Europe are due to arrive.

I am excited about the possibilities for the new location which will give Luciano Antiques approximately 3000 square feet of display space to be broken into several different display areas with various periods of antique furniture from Europe along with decorative, one of a kind, hand crafted items made by individual artists in Europe.

There will also be a Kitchen Corner; you might call it an annex to the popular Gourmet Kitchen shop (Luciano Kitchen Traditions) in the Del Monte Center. Again this kitchen corner will show one of a kind decorative items for the kitchen, both new and antique, but all of very special designs, many that we have exclusives on in the United States.

There will be another area devoted primarily to the sculpture and paintings of Traylor Dunwoody. He will also produce special decorative items which are illuminated from within. This area should open in late January.

Plans for the use of the present location on Lincoln and Seventh have not yet been set. It might possibly continue as a second shop in Carmel of Luciano Antiques with two locations in Carmel.

I hope that these three shops will continue to present the special delights and excitement the public has become used to in Luciano Antiques and Kitchen Traditions. I feel that we can only do this by our continued search throughout the world for beautiful and individual items.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

The fifth and final book in Lloyd Alexander's chronicles on the Kingdom of Prydain is now in the library. THE HIGH KING contains a confrontation between the forces of life and death, of good and evil which is exciting reading for any age. For those who have not yet begun this series, the titles in order are: THHE BOOK OF THREE, THE BLACK CAULDRON, THE CASTLE OF LLYR, TARAN WANDERER, and THE HIGH KING. It is well-written, strong heroic fantasy.

We have some new picture books which came in last week and were tried out at our recent story hour for pre-school children. Two which were favorites with the children are the following.

THE STONE DOLL OF SISTER BRUTE, by Russell and Lillian Hoban, tells about the Brute family (before they changed their name to Nice), which consists of Mama and Papa, Sister, and Big Brother and Baby Brother. Sister's problem is that she has nothing to love. Her mother gives her a stone, and Sister paints a face on it, makes a dress for it, and loves it. She names it Alice Brute Stone.

Then Sister Brute meets an ugly dog who wears hobnailed boots. He wants her to love him, and tells her that if she doesn't, he will kick her. So now she has two things to love, but the stone is heavy and all she has for her love is tiredness and kicks and bruises. So she decides to love her family, too, and then she has "hugs and lullabies, kisses and knee rides, smiles, string, colored glass and turtles and kicks and bruises. And she was happy."

The other picture book which the children enjoyed is called TWO HUNDRED RABBITS, by Lonzo Anderson and Adrienne Adams. It is a fairy-tale pageantry of a castle festival in the 15th century. A boy decides to try to win the contest for entertaining the king. He makes a magic whistle and 200 rabbits come out of the forest and march behind him. Needless to say, the king has never seen anything like this before, and the boy wins.

Story hours in the library are held at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesdays and at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. Anyone interested in signing their preschool child up for the story hours should call the library.

Let me tell you about one more book. This one will interest boys. It is THE GHOST FRONT, by Frank Bonham, who also wrote DURANGO STREET. It is set during World War II, when twins Tom and Andy Croft enlist in the army. They become involved in The Battle of the Bulge. Tom and Andy become separated and each one is on his own for the first time in his life. Each one's separate story is told.

Johnsons Visit Crete, Knossos

(Last week's letter from the Reuben Johnsons was written by Mrs. J., so this week we have selected observations by the good doctor.)

April 21, 1968 marked the first anniversary of the new regime in Greece. Every community, even to the remotest island, had signs painted to commemorate this event.

Has the new regime been successful, or not?

One gets many different reactions from the Greek people.

Some feel that a military regime is not in keeping with the democratic Greek tradition, and that the government interferes in the lives of the people far too much.

Others are enthusiastic about the reforms which have been made, and expect Greece to move ahead.

I feel that there seems to be an undue amount of emphasis on the military, and a great deal of flag waving and chauvinistic exercise.

On the other hand, there seems to have been achieved a great deal more orderly conduct of affairs, such as the collection of taxes, stabilization of prices, and many other needed reforms.

Possibly the future will tell whether this order is being purchased at the price of freedom.

For someone like myself who is interested in antiquities I find that Greece has a priceless storehouse of such things.

We visited the island of Crete.

The appearance of the island is quite different from what I had expected. Instead of vast areas of ruins, I found that it is green and beautiful with all the valleys covered with groves of grape, citrus and many types of trees and also many green fields.

We visited Knossos and Phaestus, which were important centers of the early Minoan civilization around 2000 to 1400 B.C. The palace at Knossos has been partially restored, so that one gets a good idea of the unusually advanced civilization of these earl Aegean people.

Such interesting sights as the oldest throne in Europe used by the Minoan kings, colorful frescoes, modern type water and sewage system can all be seen in these palaces.

Knossos was the center of a quite large and prosperous civilization over a thousand years before the period of classical Greece.

We also visited the Peloponnesus, which is a section of Greece rich in antiquities. Here one also finds important centers which were contemporary with Crete.

The most important center was Mycenae, a walled city built on a promontory. Excavations were started here by the German archaeologist, Henrich Schliemann in 1870.

Mycenae has yielded a vast amount of beautiful vases, frescoes, and many fine articles done in gold, silver and copper. Schliemann thought that he had found the body of Agamemnon when the five graveshafts were uncovered, but later research has indicated that this was not the case.

Another walled city, Tiryns, was located a few miles to the south of Mycenae.

We also visited the site of another important city which has been uncovered in recent years through the efforts of the University of Cincinnati. This is referred to as Nestor's Palace, and is on a high promontory overlooking the Bay of Navarino and the town of Pilon.

When the idea of moving starts closing in on you, we know how you feel. We know because we've helped so many families feel better about the whole thing.

So when it happens, give us a call . . . and cheer up.

We'll ease you over all the worries, and we'll handle your things as if they were our own.

Remember, we move families . . . not just furniture.

BUILDING SITES:
We still have a 2½ acre ocean front site with underground utilities for $49,500.
Assuming you build a two-story home, we have another site which could provide approximately a 360 degree view of both Monterey Bay and Point Lobos. The owner is very anxious to sell and requests all offers be submitted. Ask your Broker to show you MLS 2838. It is approximately a third of an acre and could be a real bargain. Listed at $11,750 on Sunset Lane.

ONE-OF-A-KIND HOME VALUES:
1. Our San Antonio home qualifies as a residence, week-ender or top rental with its two bedrooms, two baths, separate dining room, built-in kitchen with breakfast area, secluded patio and two-car detached garage. Rare value at $67,500.
2. The best purchase on the market today in its category is our completely and professionally renovated Mediterranean. The main home has three bedrooms, two baths, ocean view den and deck, separate dining room and a large living room. The guest quarters are a room and bath attached to the two-car garage. For $87,500, you acquire quality, seclusion, space and security.
3. If you prefer a more distant water view from almost every room, we can provide that and cul-de-sac seclusion from our three-bedroom, two-bath, separate dining room conventional home located for a 180-degree panoramic view for $55,000.
4. Our charming little two-bedroom home on Carpenter with the oak studded front yard and fenced rear yard can be purchased for $28,500.
5. Probably the most underpriced home on the market is our three-bedroom, two-bath, two-story, separate dining room home down on Carmelo on the Point. It is on two lots and is almost completely furnished for $55,000.

Carmel Pine Cone
Dear Sir:

A recent visit to Carmel High School revealed to me the need for a dress code. I was surprised to see girls wearing long pants and flowing robes. Many boys looked unkempt and acted sloppy.

Each student represents his community and school while on campus. We should not allow this slovenliness to continue in our high school. There are many well dressed students who carry within themselves a sense of cleaniness, neatness and pride. These are qualities that never go out of sytle. They should be a standard for students and encouraged through a homemaking program. Homemaking is not offered at Carmel High, the laboratory has been torn out and replaced with classrooms.

We have a responsibility to stand behind the School Board and administration in establishing a dress and behavior code, and in offering a much-needd homemaking program.

Dear Sir:

Please renew the following subscription from 11-16-68 to 11-16-69, for Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Forslund. . . .

Can't tell you how much we enjoy the Carmel Pine Cone every week.

We someday soon want to move to "heaven" too, and get homesick every time we read your paper.

I especially enjoy the poetry and weekly picture, as well as the news items of the events and happenings in lovely Carmel.

We visit twice a year now, but hope to be permanent soon.

Don't ever let Carmel change — it is like coming home just to visit there from this hectic world.

Retirement Every Year!

THE ALASKA BROWN BEAR is the biggest meat-eating animal in the world, often attaining a height of ten feet when he rears up on his hind legs. Like all bears, the 'brownie' hibernates in winter. Soon after the first snow falls, he finds a cave or a deep shelter under an overhanging ledge of rock. There he curls up and sleeps until spring.

The bear 'retires' for several months every year, sustained by the fat stored in his body. When human beings retire, however, they don't receive the same help from Nature. They turn instead to life insurance. Nothing can make a man's retirement years more financially secure than a portfolio of Sun Life policies tailored to his requirements. Let me tell you how.
